

Blaine Crosland, MD Joins Pediatric Team in Richmond Hill

I wanted to be a pediatrician since I was very little,” Dr. Kimberly Crosland, SouthCoast Health pediatrician, said. “Science always appealed to me, just like helping people always appealed to me. As I became a teenager, I realized that I also loved children and taking care of them. Since then, becoming a pediatrician was always the path chosen for me. There was never a plan B.”

To help kick start her career helping children, Dr. Crosland received her bachelor of science in education, exercise, and sport science, magna cum laude, at the University of Georgia in Athens, GA. She completed her doctor of medicine at the Mercer University School of Medicine in Macon, GA and had her pediatric residency at the University of Alabama at Birmingham in Birmingham, AL.

During her education and previous career experience as a pediatric hospitalist and newbornist as well as a clinical assistant professor, Dr. Crosland received multiple awards and honors, such as the letters of commendation in neonatology, general pediatrics, emergency medicine, and primary care clinic. She has research experience with infant feeding and body composition lab, and she has led poster presentations in the same subject. In addition, she is a fellow and a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

“I love seeing my patients grow from babies to adulthood. It feels amazing to assist them during each stage of their lives,” Dr. Crosland said. “I also love helping the children’s parents, like being there for families when they are worried for their child.”

Outside of the office, Dr. Crosland has two children, a husband, and two dogs to look after. She loves running and reading, and both her and her husband make a point to stay involved and volunteer with global health.

Dr. Crosland is now accepting patients at SouthCoast Health Pediatrics in Richmond Hill.

Employee of the Quarter

The Employee of the Quarter Program recognizes SouthCoast team members for outstanding accomplishments and/or contributions to SouthCoast Health and its mission statement. Eligible employees must display superior performance, innovative improvements, excel in his/her quality of work, and contribute to SouthCoast's core values. Nominations are submitted by the SouthCoast management team and then reviewed by the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee recognizes three employees from the following categories: clinical, administrative support, and clerical staff. Employee of the Quarter winners are eligible for Employee of the Year.

Carla Parker - HR Coordinator, Administration

As an Admin professional, Carla ensures that she gives 100% of customer service and meets the needs of the employees. She has great attention to detail, she always met her deadlines and always helps out when needed. Carla is very productive and focused when working on a task or project. She brings resolutions to problems and not just issues. She will also research information if she does not know an answer. Carla is a great asset to the HR department.

Adrienne Redmond - Patient Representative, Building 2

Adrienne consistently displays a pleasant and professional attitude toward co-workers, management, and patients. She works well with the providers and clinical staff. She is a great problem solver, an excellent team player and always goes the extra mile. Adrienne will come in early or stay late whenever it is needed. She always completes her job assignments with minimum supervision.

Jessica Brady - Patient Representative, Chatham Center

Jessica is always very helpful and pleasant to the employees, as well as the patients. She is always willing to find a solution to make sure that the patients are satisfied and taken care of. Jessica takes on various job duties, to ensure that the front end is running smoothly. She strives to make sure that the clinical and clerical staff are working together as a team.

Every step of the way
we're committed to the health of the communities
we serve.

Join us November 28th, and kick off a holiday season filled with Total Wellness.
